PROFILE

I am a Computer Science graduate from Jimma University, class of 2024, with a CGPA of 3.53 and an exit exam score of 67. I excel in communication, time management, teamwork, and leadership. My technical skills include web development, networking, and data structures. During my internship at Dambi Dollo University, I developed a full-stack supermarket management system and collaborated with the networking team. I also worked as an Application Software Developer at INSA, where I contributed to secure software development and feature implementation. My dedication to continuous learning and professional growth makes me a strong candidate for tech roles.
